ANNOUNCING:

MedAssets Awards NeoChild with Contract

NeoChild has been awarded a 3-year group purchasing agreement with MedAssets for its Enteral Feeding Tubes and Accessories category. This contract went into effect on October 1, 2013, and will allow MedAssets members to take advantage of special pricing and terms pre-negotiated by MedAssets for NeoChild products, including the Safe Child System™, which is the only patented enteral safety system of its kind on the market (US 8,292,875).

Marsha Kennard, president and managing partner of NeoChild, welcomes the opportunity to partner with MedAssets and provide them with the most efficient, qualified product on the market.

About NeoChild

NeoChild and its distribution-counterpart CritiCare, a certified women's business enterprise affiliate (WBENC – Registration # 2005122236), were founded in 1983. In 2007, NeoChild introduced the first complete enteral feeding system on the market, the Safe Child System™. Not only was this the first enteral feeding system on the market, but it also holds the only patent for an enteral feeding system of its kind. This system meets all joint commission regulations and follows Aspen guidelines for enteral feeding in the neonatal/nursery units. Additionally, the system offers multiple extension sets, syringes, and all three varieties of feeding tubes: Polyurethane, PVC, and Silicone.
